If you are a Jewish, Muslim, or Christian young adult, aged 19 - 29 years old, passionate about change in yourself and the world, we encourage you to apply!

Join us if you are someone who wants to:

- Live in community with a multifaith group of your peers and explore in an intentional and self-conscious way what it means to live with others in the world.
- Deepen your relationship to the land by working with our farm team, as well as engaging in reflections on land and food justice from faith perspectives.
- Do a deep dive with your peers and elders to “grow your spirit” in a multifaith context.
- Explore what it means to live and act on this planet as a person of faith in these times.

Farm the Land, Grow the Spirit Summer Institute is a six-week summer program that is fully funded by Stony Point Center and is of no cost to participants. Applications are due by Friday, February 21, 2020.
